Olaes™ Modular Bandage

The Olaes™ Modular Bandage is the newest generation of trauma bandages and is advantageous for all levels of care providers. Packed with features such as 3 metres of wound packing gauze and an occlusive plastic sheet behind the dressing pad, the advanced capabilities of the bandage are tucked neatly away and can be utilised if required or simply ignored. Velcro® 'control' strips prevent the elastic roll from accidentally unravelling and secure the bandage throughout the application process.

Designed with direct input from some of the most experienced combat medics in the world, no detail has been left out. From the adhesive 'brakes' on the elastic bandage that prevent accidental unrolling, to the zig-zag packed gauze that easily feeds from the bandage, this is the most comprehensive feature packed bandage available. No other bandage offers so much versatility in such a small package. Cover minor wounds, apply truly effective pressure dressings, apply occlusive dressings, and have the ability to pack severe wounds with one bandage.

The Olaes™ Modular Bandage has a unique pressure cup that generates true focused pressure on top of the wound site where it is required, not circumferential pressure like an ineffective tourniquet. By generating this focused pressure it helps occlude damaged vessels at the wound site where it is needed. It also reduces the amount of manual pressure required to be held, freeing up the care provider to treat other injuries or casualties. The pressure cup can also be removed and used as an eye cup for treatment of ocular injuries.
