Personal Trauma Pouch

Immediate action at a medical incident requires rapid access to the right tools for the job. Time is critical with life threatening injuries and personnel in a hostile environment may need to very quickly treat casualties and colleagues as well as themselves.

The Personal Trauma Pouch (PTP) provides the solution to the immediate medical problem. Lightweight and discreet, it includes the very best in proven, effective equipment, providing:

- Gloves for personal protection.
- Face shield for performing mouth-to-mouth resuscitation.
- Tactical tourniquet for early management of catastrophic limb haemorrhage.
- Nasopharyngeal airways for simple airway support.
- Chest seal to manage open chest wounds.
- Modular pressure bandage - an excellent wound dressing with further haemorrhage control features.
- Light stick, to either see or mark a casualty's location.

The Personal Trauma Pouch can be discreetly fitted to a belt, leg rig, tactical vest or body-armour, or attached to the outside of equipment bags for added versatility.

The Personal Trauma Pouch has a Velcro® closure and thumb loop, enabling it to be opened quickly and with a single hand.
